CONFESSION MADE
IN VOUCHER CASE

Two Privates Declared to Have Admitted Complicity

Privates Crane and Tobias have confessed to their part in the recent "final" voucher forgery by which the soldiers obtained more than $800 from the city ticket offices on alleged forged vouchers, supposed to have been signed by company commander Crea, at Fort Bliss. This is the statement of adjutant Frederick Young, of the 3rd infantry. According to the adjutant Crane and Tobias admitted having been parties to the forgery, which they stated were planned by private Hill, who is being held in the Juarez jail awaiting extradition proceedings, to bring him back to El Paso. The two soldiers now in the post guard house, say that they were intoxicated at the time they cashed the vouchers and that they had spent $7 of the money in the automobile joy ride, down the valley with the two women, who were arrested Thursday night, in company with the men, but were later released.

It is now certain that the five vouchers which were cashed were the ones that the soldier had floated, and the tension among the city passenger agents is relieved, as it was feared that three others which were cashed during the latter part of August might also have been forged.

Warrants for the three men have been prepared and will be served as soon as the investigation of the cases of Crane and Tobias is completed at the post. Col. Edwin P. Glenn will then deliver the two men to the civil authorities for trial. As soon as Hill is extradited, the three cases will be set for trial. The charges to be placed against the men will be forgery and swindling, the maximum penalty in each case being 16 years in the state prison according to chief of detectives J. C. Stansel.

TWO GOVERNORS TO ATTEND CELEBRATION

Govs. Sloan and Mills Both Accept El Paso's Invitation

The two governors of the two new states of Arizona and New Mexico are coming to the statehood celebration in El Paso.

Secretary Charlie Kinne of the chamber of commerce, who left for Phoenix to officially inform the governor Richard E. Sloan, reports that governor Sloan has gladly accepted.

J. G. McNary, who was delegated to see governor William J. Mills, of New Mexico, returned Monday morning over the Santa Fe and said: "Governor Mills assured me he would come to the celebration for at least one day, and possibly two." He said further, "We can easily count on governors Gonzalez and Colorado being present, and the big celebration will be a great success. While in New Mexico I thoroughly advertised the celebration among business men, and many are exceedingly anxious to come."

Allderman W. S. Clayton will leave Monday night for Chihuahua to invite governor Abraham Gonzalez to attend the celebration.

Mr. Clayton has telegraphed mayor C. E. Kelly, who has gone to Richmond, Va. to attend the convention for the study of municipal economy, to return by way of Austin and invite governor O. B. Colquitt to attend the celebration. Allderman J. I. Hewitt is acting mayor in the absence of mayor Kelly.

MILLS WHITEWASH

SOLDIERS SATURDAY

The Mills had everything their way in the game Saturday with the Soldiers, when they defeated Fort Bliss 4 to 0, and the boys gave "Army" excellent support.

For the past week, been keeper of sack No. 1, went into the box for the Soldiers, and pitched a good game, but his luck was "agin" him, and the Mills circled the bases every four innings.

Armstrong pitched himself into two bad holes, but two double plays by his team mates squared matters into a goose egg for the U. S. boys. Stewart, who made such a poor attempt at pitching for the Soldiers some time ago was seen behind the bat for the first time, and worked well. Hoover was unable to play Saturday, so Grady took third, and Pomeroy took charge of the initial cushion, and with all due respect to Gray, handled it about as well as the Irishman.

Dawson made the feature catch of the afternoon when he took a long spring after Jones' full distance drive in the fourth, and made a long slide jump after the sphere and caught it with one hand.

THE EL PASO STALLION

BARON LINE FAILS TO WIN

The El Paso stallion, Baron Line, at El Dorado, Kan., was unable to repeat his splendid performance, made the week previous at Pratt, Kan., owing to the chilly atmosphere, and his hard race at the latter place. He was the choice, but the horse appeared to be all "tied up," and could not get up to the leaders, although the fastest heat was 2:13.1-4, while Baron Line's record at Pratt was 2:11.4, with the half in 1:03.1-2 and the first quarter in 31 seconds. There was a contest in the third heat between Baron Line and the bay mare Ad Myre, the horse being sent away in the bay mare's position for third money. Whether this was an advantage or not the judges gave the stallion the place. The winner of the $500 purse was the brown stallion, Charnona, by Moko.

Teddy Y. was entered in the 2:18 purse for $500, but the best he could do was sixth in the first heat, 2:15.1-2, and distanced in the second.

E. L. Harris, formerly Doc C, went lame and has been laid up.

Soldiers Take One Game and the Mills Take the Other

"Lucky" Harbin won again, as usual, but it took an extra inning to do it in the second game between the Mexicans and the Hose Sunday, ending up in a 2 to 1 victory. The game was a pitcher's battle from start to finish between Harby and P. Mesa. Mesa walked six men in the first two innings, twice filling up the bags, but pulled out after Potts Lopez made Flores step out and put in E. Mesa to catch his brother, not that Flores was bad, but because neither of the Mesa brothers can work without the other. Cano was seen again on third for the first time in over six weeks and played the game in his regular old time style, polling his regular hit.

The game was one of the closest ever played on the local diamond with all decisions first class. Mesa had his spitter working a little too hard, allowing all-told eight bases on balls, but on the other hand he allowed six hits, only three balls being hit out of the base diamond. Simpson drove in the winning run for the Sox.

Soldiers Take the Game.

Rallying from a slouch the day before, the Soldiers battled the Mills again Saturday, and annexed their scalp. Hill, who was just recovering from the effects of the no-hit game in the box and was weak in the final stanza when he allowed two men to secure bases, and the next man to hit the pellet and roll it out to Dawson in center. Each pitcher allowed but five hits, but Mills scattered his runs, while Hill allowed the U. S. boys to bunch 'em. Both teams made two costly errors apiece. The feature of the game was when Jones picked up Corning's line drive over first in the fourth inning and fired it in a perfect line to second just to nail the wheel cracker sliding to the base. Stewart drove in the winning run for the Soldiers.
